ADMINISTRATION IN FAVOR OF REVISING THE NEUTRALITY ACT

To Permit Arming U. S. Merchant Vessels, and Entry to Combat Zones

FEEL NAZIS AIDED

Indications in Favor of Permitting U. S. Ships To Take Cargoes Anywhere

By Kingsbury Smith
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—There are strong indications in State Department quarters today that the administration favors revision of the neutrality act to permit not only the arming of American merchant vessels but the entry of these ships into combat zones.

The attitude of the administration is understood to be that the provisions of the neutrality act prohibiting American merchant ships from entering combat zones tends to give aid to the Axis powers at the expense of this country's national defense interests.

Since the American government now is virtually committed to bringing about the defeat of Nazism, high administration officials feel that President Roosevelt's hands should not be tied in respect to the sending of American merchant ships anywhere that their cargoes may do the most good.

These administration officials, who include Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of Navy Knox and Secretary of War Stimson, feel that it should be left entirely to the President's discretion as to where American merchant ships may be sent.

Hull, Knox and Stimson personally favor outright repeal of the neutrality act, but the Secretary of State is understood to be somewhat doubtful at the moment concerning the advisability of going so far as to seek Congressional approval for complete scrapping of the measure at this time.

HEARSE, 200 "ANGELS" START YARDLEY THEATRE

Transformation Is Accomplished By Nat Burns and Harry Harris

PATRONS' MONEY AIDS

YARDLEY, Sept. 25—A hearse and 200 "angels," claim the backers of Yardley Theatre, are responsible in the main for the start of that Summer play-house, where nightly plays are being produced by a group of rising young artists.

The hearse, picked up for practically a "song," $2 in cold cash, serves as a refreshment stand, which brings in a clearance of $30 weekly; and the "angels" backed the project by purchasing $9 subscriptions for the 10 shows of the season.

According to Arthur Bronson, writing in a Philadelphia newspaper:

The two who accomplished this transformation are Nat Burns and Harry Harris. Burns is the Yardley Theatre's managing director. A nephew of Nat Godwin and an actor-director for years, Burns remembers his debut at the age of 4 in a melodrama called "The Torando," at the old Peoples Theatre in Kensington. He also played Broadway for four and a half years in "Abie's Irish Rose."

Harry Harris, Yardley's business manager, was born in Tioga, played football at Central high and Dartmouth, and took bits in musical comedy before going into life insurance. Last year Harris and Burns met and decided to have a go at the straw hat circuit.

Rev. J. H. Waidelich Dies; At Sellersville 52 Years

SELLERSVILLE, Sept. 25—Death on Tuesday night claimed the Rev. John Henry Waidelich, pastor of St. Michael's Lutheran Church, Sellersville, and secretary of the board of directors of Muhlenberg College.

The 82-year-old clergyman was pastor of the local congregation for the past 52 years.

He helped found the North Penn Ministerial League, was an organizer of the Lutheran League of Pennsylvania at Pittsburgh in 1895, and in 1918 was a delegate to the general council of the Lutheran League.

Recently his health had been failing, and last week his parish obtained an assistant for him. The assistant, Charles Harris, a senior at Mt. Airy Seminary, had not yet begun his duties.

Mr. Waidelich was ordained in the Salem Church at Lebanon on June 17, 1889, and in the same year went to Sellersville parish, then consisting of St. Michael's and St. John's at Ridge Valley. He also founded Trinity Church at Perkasio, and for nine years supplied Jerusalem Church at Almont.

His wife, the former Alice Keller, died three years ago. He is survived by a son, Dr. Luther F. Waidelich, assistant principal of Germantown high school.

Feel Congress Will Not Approve Profits Limit

Washington, Sept. 25—Legislative leaders today described as "virtually non-existent" the chances that this session of Congress will approve Secretary Morgenthau's proposal that business profits during the emergency be limited to a flat six per cent of invested capital.

The issue, however, is certain to be raised—although probably in a somewhat milder form—and leaders concede that if the emergency lasts long enough all profits above normal may be taken.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Lesson For Mr. Willkie

Washington, Sept. 23. THERE is considerable justification for the feeling, voiced by Mr. Arthur Krock in the New York Times, and others, that the current series of magazine articles by Mr. Roosevelt, in which he speaks in the highest terms of himself and explains the least defensible acts of his earlier Administrations on the noblest possible grounds, is an extraordinary exhibition of bad timing, bad taste and bad judgment.

AT a period such as this, when he is urging national unity and deploring partisanship and personalities in others, for the President publicly to start picking the scabs off the old wounds inflicted by his 1937 effort to pack the Supreme Court, and his 1938 attempt to "purge" from public life Democratic Senators who had opposed his domestic policies, seems both petty and pernicious. One wonders how he reconciles it with an appeal for unity. It is a puzzling performance.

IT not only makes it more difficult for those who are in accord with his foreign policy to follow Mr. Roosevelt but it makes it impossible to believe in the high-mindedness of the man. Apparently he is unwilling himself to do what in the name of national unity he asks other people to do. In particular, this last article is calculated to create personal distrust, in that it disingenuously conveys the idea that the "purge" was successful, whereas the truth is it completely and humiliatingly failed. Nearly all those whom he sought to drive out of public life won their fights, are still in the Senate and still oppose his kind of "liberalism." But no one possibly could get the idea from the article to which Mr. Roosevelt's name was signed last week that they had emerged victorious from the primaries. Quite the contrary.

IT may serve a good purpose to refresh the memory—if it needs refreshing—of the fact that the

Look Out For Those Juvenile Passers

"Look out for those juvenile forward passers!" warns the Keystone Automobile Club, noting that the annual hazard of kids' football games in the streets is again upon us.

Motorists are urged by the Club to be on guard against running down heedless players, and parents are warned that the first responsibility in the matter is upon their own shoulders.

"City and town streets are mighty dangerous places in which to play with anything so erratic as a football," observes Edward P. Curran, Keystone Safety Director, in recommending that games be confined to safer areas wherever possible.

"With the football season getting under way," he said, "there has been a veritable swarm of juvenile footballers on the streets of practically every village and town in the State. 'Touch' footballs and regulation-size ovals are darting erratically through the air with youngsters running wildly in pursuit. Even the most careful motorist has difficulty in avoiding children engaged in the game, when they come at him from unexpected angles.

"We believe this is essentially a parental problem. Motorists do not deliberately run down children engaged in play, but under modern traffic conditions they cannot reasonably be expected to bear the entire burden of safety. It is primarily a duty of parents to safeguard their offspring, and they can do this best by discouraging street football and other practices which unnecessarily endanger the lives of children."

YOUTH GOES TO JAIL FOR VIOLATION OF POLIO QUARANTINE

Dominick Lattanzi, 19, Brother of Stricken Infant, Fined $100 or 30 Days in Jail

GOES INTO A GARAGE

Eludes House Guards and He and Brother Mingle With Other Children

Dominick Lattanzi, Penn street, was taken to the Bucks County Jail today when he failed to pay a $100 fine which had been imposed on him for violation of a quarantine placed on his parents' home for infantile paralysis.

Lattanzi, 19, son of Joseph Lattanzi, 315 Penn street, slipped off the premises of his parents home yesterday afternoon and went to a garage about 100 feet away where with a younger brother, who also left the Lattanzi premises, he was mingling with three other youths.

The Lattanzi home was quarantined last Friday when Joseph, two years old, developed infantile paralysis. Health Officer James H. Brooks visited the residence as soon as notified by the physician. The quarantine was placed and the family cautioned about a strict observance of the quarantine.

It was but a short time before some of the children were out on the street. The health officer accompanied by Chief of Police, Linford J. Jones, visited the residence and again a warning was given. Monday Mrs. Lattanzi left the house and went shopping. The police were called a second time when the children again got out onto the street.

The Health Board then placed the house under guard and yesterday afternoon Dominick left the residence, and went to a garage about 100 feet away on the opposite side of the rear of the Lattanzi residence. When apprehended Dominick was mingling with three other youths and his younger brother was also in the garage.

Police officer Nichols was sent to the garage and placed Lattanzi under arrest. He was given a hearing last night before Justice of Peace, Edward Lynn. When asked if he had seen the quarantine sign upon the front of his home, Dominick admitted that he had. He also informed Justice Lynn that he had read "in the paper" that those violating the quarantine would be subject to a fine not exceeding $100 or 30 days in jail. Dominick's father was present at the hearing but said nothing.

Justice Lynn severely reprimanded the youth for what he had done and told him that he was endangering the lives of other children in the community. "Don't you know that little children who have infantile paralysis are crippled for life. Haven't you seen them walking lame upon the streets after they have had this terrible disease. You were told not to leave the premises of your home because your brother, Joseph, has infantile paralysis. You go out and mingle with other children exposing them to this terrible disease."

BUY RIGHT WHEN YOU CAN GET ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT

By Edna Stephany
(Home Economics Representative)

With the increase in rural electrification, many families will buy electrical equipment as finances permit. Whether to buy or not, what piece to buy first and what to add next, are individual family problems.

A good guide is what will bring the greatest returns to the family in saving of time, labor, and money, and in satisfaction. For example, a washing machine may mean saving of a laundry bill. If the laundry has been done by hand at home, time and energy can be saved.

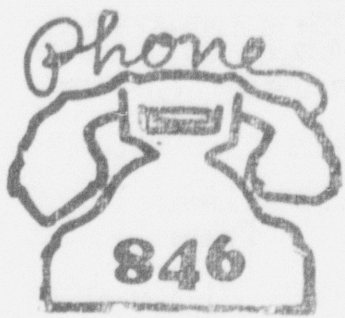

Having decided to buy the piece of equipment what should one know about it? How can one get information?

It is suggested that the family read literature put out by different manufacturers. This makes them familiar with vocabulary required to ask questions and interpret the replies. Magazine articles appear from time to time, circulars are put out by the agricultural extension service, all of which will help to familiarize one with the appliances and make a final decision. Buying from a reliable dealer and manufacturer is important. They are ready to stand back of the guarantee but the buyer should know what the guarantee covers as to labor and parts. A careful buyer will always ask where new parts can be bought, and what is the length of guarantee.

Safety measures should be considered in buying equipment. It is recommended that one buy that which has been approved by the Board of Fire Underwriters. This proves that the equipment has been tested by the Underwriters' Laboratories and has met safety requirements.

Some questions to ask the salesman—Is it approved by the National Board of Fire Underwriters? Does it have a written guarantee of what service the guarantee covers? Is it guaranteed against defects in materials and workmanship for a definite period of time? Does it have a guarantee to replace defective parts within a certain period? If the equipment is not satisfactory, can it be returned or replaced? What is the wattage of the piece of equipment, the size of wiring and amount of voltage required for satisfactory service? Is there a book with installation? What is the extra cost on it on care and use of the equipment? the installment plan? Is there a cash Is there any extra cost for delivery and reduction when paying cash?

MORE NEW TELEPHONES IN SERVICE

AVERAGE ANNUAL INCREASE
1934 to 1940 Inc.

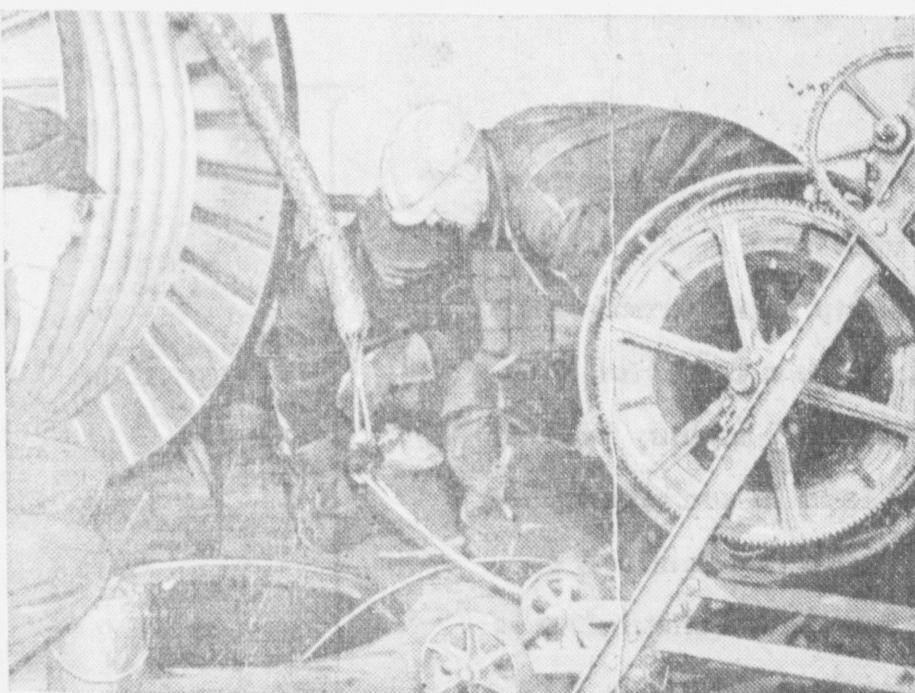

ESTIMATED INCREASE FOR 1941

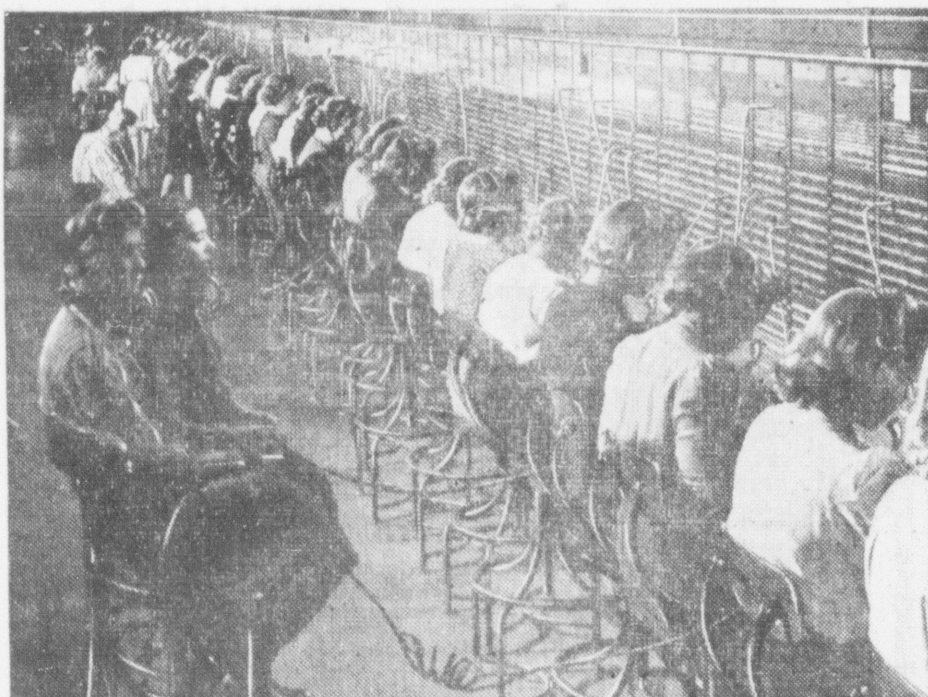

Each symbol represents 10,000 telephones

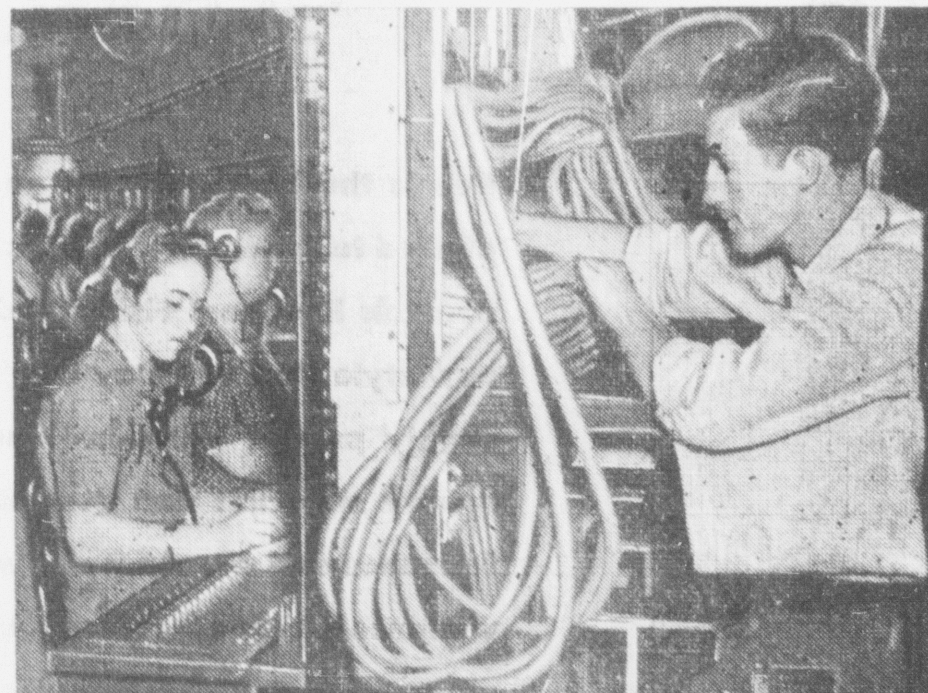

Busier today than ever before, Pennsylvanians are making record-breaking demands for telephone service—demands which have placed staggering loads on the facilities of this company. From a seven-year average of 46,500 new telephones annually, the demand has jumped to an estimated 104,000 new telephones in 1941!

Rushing construction to match the demands of soaring volumes of calls, we added in Pennsylvania 175,000 miles of wire in cables in the first half of this year. That's enough wire to encircle the world seven times! About that much more will be built before this year is over!

Late in the summer of 1939, our operators handled, on the average, 290,000 Toll calls daily. Recently the average rose to 346,000 Toll calls a day—an increase of more than 19 per cent! In the first eight months of this year, we employed about 2,000 new operators.

Even while operators are busily handling the flood of calls, expert installers are working behind the switchboards—enlarging, adding, expanding, in a neck-and-neck race to keep telephone facilities in step with the needs of the day.

The 19,000 men and women of this company are leaving no stone unturned to increase the quantity and maintain the quality of Bell service in Pennsylvania.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Apparently throwing four mechanized divisions into the fray, German forces today launched their anticipated attack on Russia's Crimean Peninsula, according to British military authorities in London.

These quarters said they did not believe the Germans were using a force of more than four divisions for this particular assault, adding they probably all were crack mechanized troops.

They said the Germans were reported trying to force their way through the "bottleneck" Jerekok Isthmus which joins the Crimea with the Russian mainland.

At the same time, authorities said, the German drives along the Sea of Azov towards Stallno and Rostov-on-Don are believed to be well enough consolidated to prevent Russian flanking attacks.

Although there was no information in London to confirm the use of German air-borne or parachute troops in the offensive against the Crimea, it was believed likely the assault is heavily supported by the Luftwaffe since Russia dominates the sea routes.

Major German Advance

Berlin, Sept. 25.—Another major advance on the southern Russia front as a heavy fighting yesterday was announced by German military authorities today.

On the northern Leningrad front it was asserted, German artillery again blasted ships in the strategic Russian harbor, setting a 10,000-ton vessel on fire.

In addition, it was announced, heavy artillery shells silenced the guns of Soviet warships which attempted to mix into the land fighting around Leningrad.

On the southern front, it was stated, German forces captured several thousand Soviet soldiers and 600 horses and destroyed 12 tanks.

The Nazi troops gained "much ground" in these operations, according to the announcement, and the Soviets suffered "heavy losses."

Officials in Berlin said the Leningrad-Murmansk Railway is now cut off at several points and in possession of Finnish forces.

Report Smashing Soviet Counter-Attacks

Moscow, Sept. 25.—Smashing Soviet counter-attacks on the northern and southern fronts were reported today, along with defeat of a second German offensive against the Arctic port of Armand.

At the same time a supplementary communique issued by the high command claimed 14 German ships, including a number of transports, and one Finnish ship, had been sunk in recent operations at sea and that several other transports and several enemy torpedo boats had been damaged and put out of action.

Meanwhile the Tass News Agency reported German planes staged a "small, unsuccessful air raid on Moscow last night."

Fresh successes for the defenders of Leningrad were reported in the gigantic and bloody battle raging for possession of Russia's second city.

Russian forces on this front were credited with recapturing three villages and a railway station and seizing a German mechanized column in an ambush counter-attack.

Private Felix Tomlinson returned to Fort Eustis Va., after spending five days' furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tomlinson, Walnut street.

Mrs. W. H. Halpin, Landreth Manor, spent Wednesday until Sunday in Allentown as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Groom. Mr. Halpin and son Daniel week-ended at the Groom residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mariner, Buffalo, N. Y., are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, last Monday.

Betty Barclay's Jelly Shelf

GRAPE JELLY
(Makes about 11 medium glasses)
4 cups juice
7½ cups sugar
½ bottle fruit pectin

To prepare juice, stem about 3 pounds fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add ½ cup water, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. (Concord grapes give best color and flavor. If Malagas or other tight-skinned grapes are used, use 3½ cups grape juice, and add strained juice of 2 medium lemons.)

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute.

Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once.

His death was the second to strike the noted family in a little more than two weeks. The President's mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, died at her Hyde Park, N. Y., home September 7th.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—A crowd of more than 3,000 persons, mostly women, roared an ovation to the Duke of Windsor and his American-born Duchess today as the royal couple alighted from the train at Washington's Union Station.

The Duke, nattily attired in a light grey pencil-striped suit, and hatless, and the Duchess in a black suit ensemble, arrived in the capital just as hordes of government workers were en route to their offices.

Turkey is Presented "Hitler Bargain"

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The diplomatic correspondent of the London Evening Standard reported today that Franz von Papen, German Ambassador to Ankara, has presented terms "Hitler bargain" to Turkey.

Firstly, if Turkey will denounce her alliance with England and remain a neutral spectator of a German drive along the Black Sea to the Caucasus and Iran, Germany will:

1. Grant the Turkish independence.

2. Cede Turkey the Black Sea lateral to the Sea of Azov.

3. Cede the Azerbaijan region.

Secondly, if Turkey will swing to the Axis, she will get all the above, plus Syria, Armenia, Palestine and Russo-Turkistan.

FALLS GRIDSTERS HARD HIT BY LOSSES FOR THIS SEASON

Jimmy Doheny's Eleven Will Meet St. Mary's Holy Name Team in The Opener

DE RISI IS ASSISTING

Club Will Be Much Lighter This Season, It Is Stated

Hard hit by losses due to various reasons, Jimmy Doheny's Falls Alumnus gridsters will open their season this Sunday by meeting the St. Mary's Holy Name eleven, of Philadelphia. The game will be played on Island Field, Morrisville.

Doheny who is being assisted by "Mike" DeRisi has to practically build an entirely new eleven because many of last season's regulars have departed and of the 1939 championship eleven only Steve Jadlocki, Walt Wasurki and Willie Abute remain.

Many fine prospects have reported for the club but on the whole the club will be much lighter in weight than in previous seasons when the club played such teams as White Horse, Eagles, Diamond, and some of the best semi-pro teams of Philadelphia.

Attempting to secure an end berth on the club is Sam Snipes, from Haverford College who played at that institution for four seasons. He will most likely team up with an old high school chum, Steve Jadlocki. There is a scarcity of tackles with only two candidates, Stan Vandegriff and Jennings Reed.

Three players are out for a guard post: the Mansmann twins, Lou and George, and "Butch" Mazzeochi, of Tullytown. Coach Doheny has no experienced center-men so he has converted George Cheving and Gene DeRisi into playing this position. DeRisi was a backfield man while Cheving formerly played at end.

The powerful Walt Wasurki is expected to carry the bulk of the work for the backfield and he will be flanked by speedy players in the persons of Al Doster, Stan Felkner, Cook and Willie Abute. "Poppy" Lovett, another back, is out for his first try in independent ball.

The above is Doheny's balance of power for the squad. He has a fast and rugged team but lacks weight and reserve strength. What reserves he has are all light and inexperienced players.

Coach Doheny is making no predictions for the season but is hoping for the continuance of the brand of football his teams have been giving the public for the past two seasons which saw the Falls team arise from the unknown to one of the best independent ball clubs of this section.

FLEETWINGS GOLFERS TO HOLD LAST TOURNAMENT

LYNN'S ALL-STAR BOWLERS WIN FOUR ROUNDS

Lynn's All Stars first place team won four rounds Tuesday night when they had no competition. Baehser was high for the Stars with 551.

Voltz-Texaco held on to second place by taking three points from Wilson's. Vince Boccardo was high for the gasoline men with a 581 total. Kondyra led Wilson's with 511.

The Odd Fellows moved out of the cellar by taking 3 from Brady's. Shire was high for the Oddies with 495. Shaffer bowled a neat 574 for the losers.

Diamond continued their slump by losing three to Auto Boys. O'Boyle led Diamond with 551, while Leon Flavin's 542 was the best for the Mill Streeters.

WRESTLING SEASON TO OPEN OCTOBER 2ND

TRENTON, Sept. 25.—The 1941-42 wrestling season will get under way at the Arena on Thursday, October 2nd, with an outstanding array of mat talent. Johnny Ipp will again be at the helm, this making his tenth consecutive season as the wrestling promoter and matchmaker.

Thursday will be the regular date and shows will be conducted weekly as in previous years. The change to Thursday was made in order not to conflict with the weekly shows in New York and Philadelphia, and thus assures local fandom of the best in the mat world.

Bobby Bruns, handsome Chicagoan, who was a prime favorite last season, will be featured in the windup. Bobby returned late last season from a two-year trip to South America. He climaxed his stay there by winning the International Tournament, and is recognized as the International Champion.

He will face the Swedish Angel, ugliest wrestler in the game and also one of the roughest and toughest ever to step on the Arena canvas. The Swedish Angel partook in some corking matches at the Arena and while he is decidedly unpopular with the fans, they have a world of respect for his wrestling ability. The bout will be to a finish.

In the semi-feature, two of the best of the younger crop of mat artists are slated to tangle. Karol Krauser, the Polish Adonis and one of the cleverest grapplers in the sport, will vie with Dick Lever, burly young Southerner. Lever has just returned from an extensive trip to Australia and New Zealand and reports he is in fine condition.

The popular Zoska Burska, lithe and good-looking female star, will make her season's debut against Jessica Songbird, another good-looking mat tarzan, in a time limit setto.

Several newcomers will appear on the card. They are Benny "Crusher" Feldman, powerful bearded Hebrew; The Mighty Tristan, clever Swede; Primo Delmonte, and some old favorites will return. Mike Haller, the Scranton miner; John Melsa, the classy Greek; and Michele Leone, the acrobatic Italian.

The first bout will start at 8:30 p. m., and popular prices will prevail.

FASHION PARADE

By Max Factor, Jr.
(Famous Hollywood Make-Up Specialist Writing For L. N. S.)

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—Candid-camera photographs frequently supply a much truer picture of the perfections and imperfections of a woman's appearance than can be gained from even the most thorough inspection in a mirror.

Really candid pictures allow women to see themselves under the most revealing conditions of lighting, physical postures, facial expression, and make-up creation.

The value of the candid-type portraits, as compared with posed ones, is immeasurably the greater. Posed portraits flatter by concealing or minimizing appearance imperfections. If they didn't you probably wouldn't accept them from the photographer.

But if candid camera pictures flatter you, it is purely accidental. This lack of flattery can be of great value to any woman who appreciates its import and takes the corrective steps which are implied.

Candid cameras are most ruthlessly critical when recording the close-up image of a woman who is without make-up, or one who has applied powder and rouge without preparing her skin for such application.

In close-up, the photographed complexion of the woman who has used no make-up will, in nearly every case, appear much rougher than it would if she had been correctly made-up. Small skin imperfections which make-up would have minimized will stand out with easily seen sharpness without such grooming treatment.

Candid-camera portraits can also serve to demonstrate how much the appearance of powder and rouge applications, made without preparatory skin-conditioning treatments, suffer in comparison with those for which such preparation has been provided.

Neither powder nor rouge, applied directly to the skin, appears as smoothly a part of the complexion itself as when applied over a preliminary surface of make-up foundation. Most women know that make-up foundation will make powder and rouge adhere to the skin longer and more perfectly. Not so many seem to realize that it greatly increases the smoothness of the powder and rouge applications.

Candid-camera photographic studies can also serve to reveal with astonishing clarity such details as whether or not lipstick applications are as smooth and natural as they might be; skin shine on the nose or cheek bones; wrinkles forming around the eyes and mouth; the degree of sheen apparent in the hair; how natural the effect of eye make-up.

Don't assume that such revelations are apparent only in photographs. Remember that such pictures always offer a record of how you actually appear to the people around you at the time it was taken, and that the camera saw only what they might have seen if they had been observing you. If you are not happy about what they and the camera were able to discern in the details of your appearance take whatever corrective steps may be indicated.
